Madison City Hall Office for Kozielek

Daily Hours Listed by Acting Mayor; Date of Election Indefinite

Acting Mayor Raymond F. Kozielek of Madison today began daily office hours in an office on the second floor of city hall at 1529 Third street. He is to serve until a summer special election and has not decided whether he will be a mayor candidate.

The office formerly was used by the late Village Presidents Gargano and Dron. Located across a hallway from the city council room, it also was occupied initially by Mayor Stephen Morris who died Feb. 16, he later had conducted city business from his real estate and insurance office on Madison avenue.

Magistrate hearings, conducted in the office in recent years, will move to other quarters on the second floor. A telephone is being installed for Kozielek, who will be present from 9:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Citizens who wish to avoid the climb to the second floor will be able to confer with the acting mayor in the first-floor city hall office of Controller E. J. Miller.

After 3 p.m. daily, Kozielek will be at his office in the Investment and Commercial Realty Co., 2128 Pontoon road, 452-2246. He can be contacted about municipal matters there as well as at the city hall.

Uncle Leo Alderman
His uncle, Leo Kozielek, was a charter member of the city council from the time Madison became a city in 1942.

The elder Kozielek, who died in 1965, remained on the council until April 1967, when he was elected to the first of his four four-year terms as Third Ward alderman.

Statutes require an alderman to serve as acting mayor and there is doubt that rotation of the duties would be legal, Kozielek said. The first of his four four-year terms as Third Ward alderman, Kozielek said.

Kozielek presided in recent years on occasions when Mayor Morris was ill or out of town. He was elected to the position of alderman in 1963.

Discussion by City Leaders
While his selection as acting mayor was made solely by the members of the city council, a discussion by city leaders was discussed Feb. 16 at a gathering of elected and appointed city officials. The city leaders active in Madison public life and in the city political group.

There has been tentative agreement to delay the mayor election for the time being in order to deal with the city's financial problems. March primary voting and the April school election. The mayor vote must take place by Aug. 16.

City officials also plan to devote this winter and spring to continued development of the city's economic base. The acting mayor said.

Operational cost items of the new tax levy total $1,162,725. In addition are levies of $55,000 for municipal retirement, $14,000 for auditing and $10,000 for liability insurance.

The new tax levy of $1,241,725 is an increase of $191,475 over the 1969 tax levy of $1,050,250. It is the highest tax levy in the history of the city. The levy is 2.20 in operational costs and $55,000 for the municipal retirement fund.

Henne pointed out that about a week ago he had asked the board for an explanation of the $55,000 item for payment of legal fees to Sprague contained in the district's annual report which was released in late January.

"I was told that these fees were paid for services in handling tax objection cases which were considered by the board and one which will put the district's general fund tax rate at its maximum of 20 cents.

Madison Officer Goclan Commended for Capture

Goclan was off duty at the time of the incident. He had been on duty at the time of the robbery and a description of the suspects.

Goclan saw a gun in the man's pocket and pulled out a loaded .38 caliber automatic. He then searched the man and found a number of diamond rings in his pockets and placed him under arrest.

NAACP Backs Plea For Revision in Fund Thaw Plan

A move by the Metro-East Labor Council, Inc., in seeking revision of a proposal by Gov. Ogilvie to end the highway fund freeze was endorsed yesterday in a meeting of about 60 members of the Illinois Conference of NAACP chapters at the Y.M.C.A. district community building.

The revisions in the governor's program were sought after a delegation of ten persons who identified themselves as Black Egyptians appeared at the council meeting. They protested the methods of the search, in which Brawley recovered 13 radio stations earlier in a burglary.

Hartman told the council that investigation of the case permitted to enter by a 19-year-old officer of the apartment building and the last with permission to make a search.

Says Search Legal
City Attorney Harry E. Hartman, speaking for the council's police committee, which was instructed two weeks ago to review the facts of a house search made by Venice police in connection with a burglary case, told members that the search by Assistant Chief of Police Ralph D. Review of the case was requested by Mayor John E. Lee at the Feb. 6 council session after a delegation of ten persons who identified themselves as Black Egyptians appeared at the council meeting. They protested the methods of the search, in which Brawley recovered 13 radio stations earlier in a burglary.

Hartman told the council that investigation of the case permitted to enter by a 19-year-old officer of the apartment building and the last with permission to make a search.

Prof Outlines Similarities Of East Side, West Side

Despite a distinct feeling of separatism that exists between residents of the Illinois section area and those living in St. Louis, all factors graphically point to total similarity, Dr. Robert Koepke of the Southern Illinois University-Southeastern campus, told Granite City Optimists Thursday noon.

Illustrating his talk with graphs, maps and charts, the social science specialist presented abundant statistics and other factual evidence in support of his statements.

Because the Mississippi River divides the two areas does not mean we are any different than those living on the other side," Dr. Koepke stated. "We are still part of the greater metropolitan complex and are one and the same."

Dr. Koepke developed his theory by showing graphs detailing economic factors, population density, educational opportunities and levels of education achievement, social and economic and income levels. "Our interests parallel the same route, our problems are the same," he stated.

Mothers Club Is Organized, Meets in Venice

A Mothers Club, with members from the Madison and Venice area, has been formed for the mothers of retarded children, most of whom are on the waiting lists for state hospitals, it was announced late last week by Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent of the Alton State Hospital.

The purpose of the group is to provide a social outlet for the mothers as well as a vehicle by which they may discuss common problems, become aware of community resources and eventually try to fulfill some of the needs that are presently not being met in their particular geographical area for retarded children.

Mrs. Sandra Kolo, social worker at Alton State Hospital, and Miss Sue Billman, VISTA worker with the EOC office in Madison, are sharing equal responsibilities in coordinating the meetings and communicating to the mothers.

Guest speakers of other various agencies and community organizations will meet with the mothers during the meetings to explain their services where perhaps they might be of service to the children.

The group meets on the second and fourth Monday of each month from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Venice Community Center. The club presently has a membership of 16.

The next meeting, however, has been scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 25, because a tour of Specialized Services in Granite City is planned.

Mothers of retarded children and other mothers interested in working with this group are invited to attend.

Preliminary steps to international oratorical competition will take place Thursday, March 12, when local youths compete for top honors in the Granite City Optimist Club's annual "Oratorical Contest."

The event will be combined with a weekly luncheon of the men's services club at the Rose Bowl restaurant.

Pontoon Village To Crackdown on Unleashed Dogs

Starting today, unleashed and petting dogs found roaming the Pontoon Beach village area will be picked up by police. Patrolman Kenneth White and Patrolman William G. Gibbons, Madison County Rabies Control Center at Hamel, Thomas Staicoiff, village president, announced Saturday.

Immediate enforcement of the animal control ordinance, which requires for a fee of $10 a leash, was ordered Friday evening by the village board in special session.

Trustees also authorized village public meetings of the board to take place at 7:30 p.m. each third Monday of the month; appointed a new police part-timer; and approved use of motor fuel tax funds for temporary repairs to village roads damaged by severe weather.

Action against dog owners who permit their animals to roam-at-large was initiated by a petition presented by the board to William G. Gibbons, 15 Fountain drive, which urged enforcement of the ordinance.

Gibbons told the trustees his son recently was bitten by a stray dog.

To assist Humane Officer Bob Snyder on an emergency basis, trustees approved the appointment of Patrolman White as assistant humane officer.

"We are not trying to be hard on anyone, but we do intend to be firm in enforcing this regulation," Mayor Staicoiff said. "Too many people have complained about dogs running loose. They don't enjoy being harassed by their resident's pets. It is an infringement of their rights, and we must protect our children and property."

Persons with dog complaints may contact Officer White, at 931-5660.

Staicoiff said the animals will be taken to the county animal control center in Hamel where owners may retrieve the dogs by paying boarding costs. Owners will be issued summons and all animals not confined to a yard or pen must be leashed or muzzled, he emphasized.

Appointed to the volunteer police force was James Jones, 31, of 7 Karsberg Park, an employee of General Steel Industries. The department now numbers 11 men.

It was agreed to collect the full one cent village sales tax. Previously, the state retained one-fourth of each cent, Staicoiff said. Increasing the village's share will not increase the 1% sales tax rate, he pointed out.

Amvets to Honor City of Venice Saturday

ROBERT GOMULINSKI
National Commander

Amvets officials and representatives of Quad-City fraternal, civic and service organizations will be joined by national, state and area dignitaries at a special program Saturday to pay tribute to the city of Venice, believed to be the first community to authorize by ordinance lowering of all city flags to half staff upon the death of a serviceman in action.

Ceremonies will take place outside the Venice city hall starting at 2 p.m. Saturday under the auspices of Amvets Post 51 of Granite City. The public is invited to attend.

Amvets throughout the country are being urged to seek passage of ordinances patterned on similar lines to the Venice statute, which has received the commendation of President Richard Nixon and other officials.

Interest generated about the project has spread to Amvets posts in many states, with the program already adopted by individual posts in the Chicago area and elsewhere.

Plaque Presentation

Highlighting Saturday's event will be formal presentation of a plaque and staff by National Amvets Commander Robert B. Gomulinski of Washington, D. C., and a fly-over by jet fighter aircraft from the 101st Tactical Air Group, Air National Guard, based at Lambert Field, St. Louis.

A program of patriotic music performed by the Venice school band, placing a wreath at the Venice flagpole in commemoration of all Venice war dead; and a salute played by National Amvets Bugler Andy Sport of University City, Mo., also are scheduled.

Remarks to be made by Commander Gomulinski at the Venice ceremony are expected to touch on his experiences during a trip last month to South Vietnam and Korea.

by the Department of Defense for the purpose of familiarizing the Amvets top officer with matters of national security and foreign affairs in the Far East.

Gomulinski, 37, an accountant in the U. S. Automotive Manufacturing Group of Chrysler Corp., is the first Korean veteran to lead any of the major veteran organizations. He resides in Frazier, Mich., but is headquartered for one year in Washington while serving as Amvets national commander.

SUNSCOPE METHOD of viewing a solar eclipse prevents eye damage, the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness advises for the March 7 eclipse.

Homemade Sunscope is Best Way to View Solar Eclipse

A solar eclipse of the sun will occur from approximately 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. - Central Time, Saturday, March 7. Although it will be a partial one, (60%) it will be just as dangerous to sight as a total eclipse, according to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Fifteen individuals in Illinois suffered permanent eye damage by looking at the sun during the last eclipse in 1963.

The greatest danger comes from ultraviolet and infrared radiation emitted by the sun.

When focused on the retina of the eye, these invisible rays can cause harmful burns. The retina is insensitive to pain so an individual does not realize his eyes have been scarred until it is too late.

"The safest way of viewing this phenomenon is through a sunscope," states Derrick Vail, M.D., Ophthalmologist, and member of the Society's board of directors.

Free instructions for making a sunscope at home or in the schoolroom may be had by writing "Prevention of Blindness," 220 South State street, Chicago, Ill. 60604.

Wounded Soldier Due To Be Airlifted Home

Army Pfc James Michael Morgan, 20, wounded in action Jan. 19 while in combat with the Americal Division near Chu Lai, Vietnam, is expected to be evacuated to a stateside military hospital this week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan, Rural Route One, Box 128.

In two first-hand reports to his parents, made from his hospital bed in Japan, Pfc Morgan said his condition "is improving everyday." His initial call home, via transoceanic telephone on Feb. 12, was followed with a second conversation last week over a radio-phone relay system.

The local serviceman suffered a serious stomach wound Jan. 19, when shot by enemy AK rifle fire on patrol with his unit, the 11th Light Infantry Brigade, in the vicinity of Chu Lai. He underwent two operations at the 27th Surgical Hospital at Chu Lai, before being airlifted to a U. S. military hospital in Japan.

"He doesn't say too much over the phone and we'll know more about his actual condition when we see him, which I hope is very soon," his mother said Thursday. "He seems to be in good spirits and said he is improving everyday," she added.

The Morgans learned their son had been wounded when a Vietnam returnee, Sp4 Edgar Kayser Jr. of Granite City, delivered a note from the hospitalized serviceman late last month.

Sp4 Kayser was stationed at the 27th Surgical Hospital at Chu Lai, where Pfc Morgan underwent surgery. At the wounded soldier's own request, the family was not advised of the injury until the information was disclosed in the letter to his parents.

A combat infantryman, Pfc Morgan was assigned to Vietnam on Nov. 4. He graduated in 1967 from Granite City high school and was employed in the blast furnace department at Granite City Steel Co., prior to entering the service last June 13.

Two Ironworkers Sue GC Steel Over Mishap

A suit seeking $35,000 each was filed last week for James Carpenter and LaDonne Honey against Granite City Steel Co. in Madison county circuit court at Edwardsville.

According to the complaint, the two suffered serious and permanent injuries when they were struck by a train at the firm's blast furnace division last Dec. 23. They were employed as ironworkers for the H. W. Kroeger Erection Co. which had been contracted to alter and construct certain fixtures on a conveyor used at the plant.

DONALD F. CAIRNS

Cairns Honored by Pres. Nixon for Clean Air Work

Donald F. Cairns, assistant to the president of Granite City Steel Co., has received a letter from President Richard M. Nixon commending him for his contributions to the establishment of air pollution control regulations in the two-state metropolitan area, it was announced Thursday afternoon.

In his letter to Cairns, President Nixon said: "Your outstanding leadership in the cooperative efforts of industry and government to combat air pollution in the St. Louis area has come to my attention and I want to commend you for your splendid work. I understand that you contributed a great deal to the formation of practical and effective pollution control regulations which have already begun to achieve gratifying results."

Cairns, who lives at 17 East Swan avenue, Webster Groves, served as president of the Industrial Waste Control Council in 1966 and 1967, and as chairman of the board in 1968 and 1969.

He is a member of the Air and Water Quality committee of the American Iron and Steel Institute, and immediate past chairman of the Steel committee, Air Pollution Control Association. He is also a member of the iron and steel industry liaison committee appointed by Dr. John T. Middleton, head of the National Air Pollution Control Administration.

Cairns is a member of the St. Louis County Planning Commission and president of the Edgewood Children's Center. He is a former chairman of the Webster Groves Planning Commission, former member of the Webster Groves Business Development Commission and past chairman of the St. Louis County Traffic Commission.

Income Tax Form 1040X Explained by Director

Federal income taxpayers who have already filed their 1969 income tax return but now find they have failed to report all of their income because of late arrival of forms, W-2 should correct the error by filing form 1040X, Jay G. Philpott, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, reported.

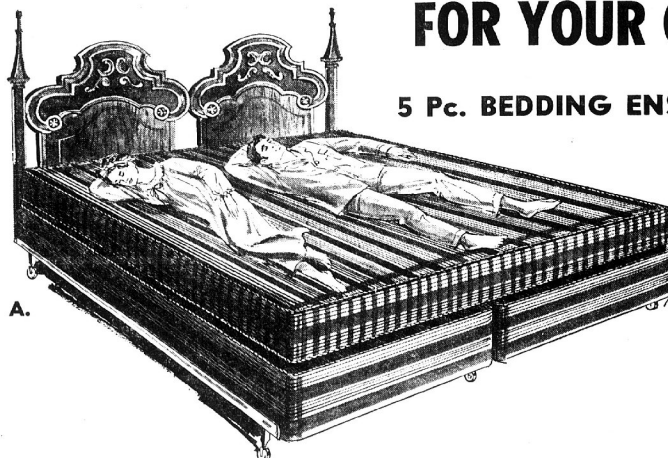

He said that while use of form 1040X is not mandatory, IRS prefers that it be used rather than an amended form 1040, or by filing a claim for refund on form 843, since form 1040X was designed to expedite processing.

Philpott cautioned taxpayers to be sure that all entries at the top of the form—name, address, social security number, marital status and other information—are accurate.

Form 1040X can be obtained at any IRS office. Taxpayers are requested to mail the completed form 1040X to the IRS center, Kansas City, Mo. 64170.

Says State Deters Full Air Control

The Illinois State Air Pollution Control Board should either expand its operations to take over full air control enforcement or relax exemption requirements so that local air boards can carry out local enforcement of duties. Prof. Erwin Hoelscher, technical secretary of the Granite City board, was scheduled to tell a legislative commission in East St. Louis in a statement prepared for presentation to the commission which convened a public hearing at East St. Louis at 10 a.m. today. Hoelscher declared that exemption requirements of the state have blocked a federal grant which would permit Granite City to carry out a thorough enforcement program, and it is from receiving full benefits from emission reduction quotas.

Wrice was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for cuts to the head, face and both knees and was transferred to St. Louis City Hospital where he is recuperating in fair condition shortly before noon today. Wrice was eastbound when the accident occurred, police said.

MORE ABOUT Burglars

W. Coggins, 22, of 2710 Denver street at the scene. Later of the scene, Eugene DuBoise, 21, of 2010 Sixth street, Madison as a suspect in the break-in.

Police Post Burglary
An 18-year-old Venice youth and two 15-year-old juveniles were captured by Venice police at 1:45 a.m. Friday during the trio's alleged burglary of the American Legion Post 799 hall at 1043 Douglas street.

Officers booked Lawson Mason Jr., 18, of 1128 Market street, on a burglary charge and released him on his own recognizance pending a magistrate hearing. The juveniles were turned over to county juvenile authorities.

Police said they went to the Post 799 home when a burglar alarm sounded and picked up Mason as he was running from the building. The two younger boys still were in the building, officers said.

Entry was gained through a window on the west side and police said boxes containing 54 bottles of liquor and a radio had been stacked by the window.

House Looted
Russell Pulley, 4548 Highway 162, reported at 2:30 p.m. Sunday that 23-inch television set and furniture were stolen from his home while the family was away for a few days.

Furnishings taken included a set of walnut end tables, a large coffee table, a large drum table and three table lamps. Entry was gained by breaking a window.

Allen Glasper, Bend road, Eagle Park Acres, reported to Madison police at 5:30 a.m. yesterday that a burglar had entered the house during the night and had stolen his wife's purse containing $50 and also took a tenor saxophone that had been rented by his son from the Madison high school.

A tray of sample class rings was taken by a thief who opened a locked glass display case at Granite City high school early Sunday.

A $70 clock-radio was stolen Friday afternoon from the apartment of Marilyn Crews, 2128 Nevada avenue.

House, Station Burglaries
Nothing was reported to be missing in burglaries Friday afternoon at the home of Patrick Harlow, 2311 Hodges avenue, where rooms were ransacked and a television set was moved, and Friday night at Orville Dirden's service station, 1460 State street, where a door was forced open, the office was ransacked and papers were scattered on the floor. Door glass was broken early Saturday at the apartment of Hugh Talbert, 3124 Yale drive, but nothing was taken.

A two-door black 1966 auto owned by Phillip Boyer, 1561 Rodger avenue, was stolen Friday afternoon from a Granite City Steel Co. storage lot at 20th and Nash streets.

Terrell Sue Logan, 2182 State street, reported at 5 p.m. Sunday that her white-over-blue 1962 convertible auto was stolen from Niedringhaus and Edison avenues at about 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

The blue 1961 two-door auto of John Henec, 1424 Madison avenue, was stolen at 11 a.m. Saturday from Niedringhaus and Edison avenues.

Arrest 3 in Madison After Disturbance

Three men were arrested at Madison on disorderly conduct charges at 4 a.m. yesterday as the result of a disturbance in an alley in the 1000 block of Madison avenue, according to Madison police. Officer William Fanning said he went to the scene when he was notified of a fight and found several persons arguing. He said he told one of the men to get in his car and go home.

Police booked Robert Shoemaker, 21, of St. Louis; Jim Edmondson, 26, St. Charles, Mo.; and Gary Treeters, 26, of High Ridge, Mo. All posted $50 cash bonds pending magistrate hearings March 4.

Plan Parkview Fun Festival

Bob Kirgan, president of the Parkview PTA, introduced Irvin State, who addressed Thursday night's PTA meeting on wills and estate planning. A question period followed his talk.

A guest, Mrs. Mary Fehrman, president of Frohardt, PTA, led the flag pledge and gave the PTA prayer. Bob Hildebrand gave a report.

A "fun festival" was planned as a fund project April 10. Food, booths and activities are planned. Those having white elephant items may call Mrs. Kirgan, 931-2710.

The nominating committee will be composed of Mrs. Charlotte R. O'Brien, Mrs. Elizabeth Briggs and Mrs. Joanna Conreux.

New by-laws were accepted. Executive board members and their spouses will attend the Area PTA Council awards banquet Thursday.

Mrs. Lynn Laurant's afternoon kindergarten won the room prize, and Miss Pat Crump received a prize.

Third grade room mothers served refreshments. Valentine table decorations of red and hearts were made by John Murphy, fourth grade class.

Two Post $2600 Cash After Theft Arrests

Two Granite City men arrested by Wood River police in connection with a series of burglaries were released from the Madison county jail during the weekend after posting cash bail of $2600.

They are William John Polite, 27, and William Derrick, 27, who gave a fictitious Iowa state address.

The two, along with two St. Louis men, were charged with theft after they were stopped in their auto Wednesday night by a police sergeant.

Police Sgt. Harold Ingram spotted the car, followed it and saw some items being thrown from the car. Police found a 12-gauge shotgun in the car, a 32 caliber pistol on the street, and lost including jewelry, a fur coat, silverware and other items stolen from homes in the Wood River area.

MORE ABOUT Legal Fees

resulted in recovery of some $180,000 in protested taxes, Henne said.

Examined Vouchers
"As a result, I examined the vouchers in the office and found a voucher for $10,169 paid to Sprague in February for handling cases resulting in recovery of $50,847 in protested taxes and another voucher for $16,377 paid in October for handling cases leading to recovery of $81,885 in protested taxes. Another voucher showed a fee of $290, also paid in October, for preparing an opinion on tax warrants."

Henne then referred to the tax warrant opinion as a matter in which Sprague was in a position to approve his own work.

Sprague interrupted Henne. "You are on false premises, Mr. Henne," Sprague said. "The $290 fee was for the full transcript for tax warrant preparation which involves 18 steps. Our office performed all of the work there is no legal deferment to my performing that work."

Henne then read in part the attorney general's opinion which held that it is the duty of the state's attorney's office to handle tax objection cases for all tax agencies. Henne said that under this ruling tax agencies "would be precluded from hiring a private attorney to do work which is the duty of the state's attorney's office."

Suggests Board Action
"I suggest," Henne added, "that the board review this situation and try to recover this money."

Sprague told Henne, "You represent people who file objections to keep from paying thousands of dollars to tax agencies and then you come here and object to the levee district having proper representation in court to fight those objections."

Sprague said that the state's attorney's office was not properly set up to handle all the tax objection cases. He said that "Our employment agreement (between the levee board and Sprague) provides for extra compensation for appearances and days in court."

Henne repeated his earlier assertion that he believed the levee board should review the case.

Meanwhile, Marshall Smith, Madison county assistant state's attorney, said he was "looking into" facts surrounding the "financial mess" of the levee district, but said he does not know at this point whether they will justify a grand jury investigation.

He said he hopes to examine records of a legislative commission investigation into levee district activities nearly five years ago to see if there is a basis for resuming a full-scale probe at this time.

"There is no question the levee district financial affairs are in a mess, but whether or not there is a legal basis for action is something I cannot say at the moment," Smith said. "However, I am doing some checking to determine if the matter should be gone into."

'Why You Smoke-- A Self-Test' to Be Presented

"Why You Smoke--A Self-Test," a National Educational Television series that will be telecast nationally at 9 p.m. on five consecutive nights, March 2-6 on Channel 9, is designed to help people understand the psychological and physical aspects of the smoking habit. An important feature of the series will be a test to be taken by home viewers while the programs are on the air.

The series, produced in cooperation with the American Cancer Society, will attempt to give viewers an understanding of why they smoke and how they may break the habit if they choose to do so. There will be no scare tactics or warnings about disease; the programs are intended only to be informative and entertaining.

"Why You Smoke--A Self-Test" is a cinema-verite production about three people who decide they would like to do something about their heavy smoking. In the process, they begin a four-part test developed by the director of the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, Dr. Daniel Horn.

Viewers at home will take the same test, each part on a different night. Some five million copies of the test are being printed for general distribution by the U. S. Public Health Service and are being distributed in this area by Kete. To receive a test pamphlet, viewers may write to Kete, 696 Millbrook, St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

Students Think Council Session 'Quite a Show'

"They loved every minute of it and thought the whole thing was quite a show," a fifth grade teacher at Maryville school said, describing his students' reaction to last Monday night's city council meeting which 16 class members attended.

"People don't realize how much gets through to a 10 or 11-year-old," emphasized Guy Lahr, a Maryville teacher who escorted the students to the council session, accompanied by five parents.

"One youngster commented afterwards that an alderman made a motion and later seconded his own motion," the teacher said. "You're not supposed to do that, are you? The child queried following the meeting."

The alderman had done it as a joke, when there was a delay in obtaining a second.

The fifth grade students are part of a pilot program in political science, currently being taught fourth through sixth graders who are considered in the accelerated learning level, Lahr explained.

Mrs. Sally Sowell, a gifted education specialist, is coordinating the new concept in grade school instruction, assisted by Richard Brinkoff and teachers from the participating grades.

Prior to attending the council session, the students visited the headquarters of state representative candidate, David Partney, to observe how a political aspirant establishes his campaign center. Later, the group toured the police department and jail area and visited Mayor Donald Partney's office at city hall. Starting in the fourth grade, the pupils learn the beginning phases of government, acting out parts to better understand the early political stages. Fifth graders start to learn the make-up of the federal and state constitutions and their relationship with county, township and municipal government.
